WELCOME LETTER

Dear colleagues and friends,

On behalf of the Ibero-American Nutrition Foundation (FINUT) we welcome you and invite you to participate in the FINUT 2024 Conference, to be held at the Events Center El Tesoro in the city of Medellin, Colombia from October 24-26, 2024, under the theme "Nutrition at the forefront of a sustainable planet" and co-organized by the School of Nutrition of the University of Antioquia.

FINUT is a non-profit organisation founded in 2011 to promote knowledge, research, development and innovation in Nutrition and Food in Ibero-America. Its programmes are aimed at training professionals, researchers and students interested in these areas and it establishes collaboration agreements with both public and private entities to provide scientific responses to the challenges posed in the region.

The last edition was held in Mexico City and had 466 attendees from 25 countries, who participated in 55 scientific activities, presented 230 papers published in Annals of Nutrition and Metabolism, and reported a 90% rate of creation of new relationships of interest. Academics professionals, researchers and graduate and postgraduate students accounted for 70% of the attendees; 30% were represented by clinicians from Nutrition and Medicine, undergraduate students and a food industry delegates and chefs.

The overall objective of the FINUT 2024 Conference is to create a space for exchange, discussion of ideas, and integration of new teams involving all the stakeholders to address the main challenges of Food, Nutrition and Sustainability in Ibero-America, and thus offer solutions aimed at improving the health status of the population, taking into account the impact of social inequalities in the region.

The School of Nutrition of the University of Antioquia and FINUT are excited to work as a team to offer again, now in the city of Medellin, the atmosphere of excellence and quality scientific programme that characterize the FINUT Conference.

Sincerely

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

1 - CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Essence of politics:

The quality and scientific excellence of the Conference are two basic and essential aspects of the Conference. In order to guarantee these aspects, FINUT considers the participation of all actors and sectors involved in the field of food and nutrition to be indispensable.

Steps

- All proposals for participation received by the FINUT Conference will be evaluated by an internationally renowned Scientific Committee. The committee is announced on the conference website.
- The relevance and scientific quality of each and every one of the activities proposed by the entities is required.
- No specific brand of products may be referred to or advertised in any of the organised activities.
- The conference will have a defined stand area and, outside this area, entities will not be allowed to use the conference space to promote any particular product or service.
- In relation to the stands, entities must submit a proposal with the products, logos and services to be offered at the stands in order to be assessed and, where appropriate, authorised by the Conference Organising Committee.

<https://www.finut.org/conflicto-interes/>

TRANSPARENCY POLICY

Measures:

Participating entities, both public and private, are subject to compliance with the following specifications:

- All symposia have the information of their organisers and in the case of a partner other than the organiser, their name will be recognised in the programme.
- The stands are clearly identified by the entity sponsoring them.
- Any other type of collaboration is also visibly acknowledged in the different supports offered by the Conference.
